GROUP AND TEAM PROGRAM DESIGN AND COACHING SKILLS

Creating exceptional group and team programs is increasingly a competitive advantage for coaches, as well as trainers and facilitators. Are you looking to launch a new group program? Wanting to expand your reach? Been asked to design a workshop or retreat? Hoping to give a webinar that will WOW?

Work with the best – the woman who literally wrote the books on group and team coaching, Jennifer Britton. Whether you are designing a workshop, retreat, teleclass, webinar, or group or team coaching program, consider individual and group support offerings – live as well as on-demand. Jennifer has worked with groups and teams globally since the late 1980s and is known for her ability to listen as well as her extensive knowledge and road tested, practical tips from designing and facilitating tens of thousands of hours of group and team programs (virtual, live, on-demand etc.) over the last 25 plus years. She's also been facilitating train-the-trainers since 2000 and coach-the-coach programs since 2004. Jenn is a Professional Certified Coach, a Certified Co-active Coach (CACC) and speaks widely to professionals in the coaching and training industries.
